ZONING AND PROCESS

COMP PLAN AND ZONING

- Zone: RA-1, Comp Plan Recommendation: Institutional
- Permitted Uses:
 - Medical care
 - Child and/or elderly development center
 - Continuing care retirement community
 - Rowhouses and apartments
 - Community service center
 - Retail TBD
- Process
 - Planned Unit Development (“PUD”), submitted by Applicant and approved by DC Zoning Commission.
- Timeline:
 - PUD: 9 to 12 months
 - Site Plan and Permits: 12 months
 - Groundbreaking assuming no appeal: 21 to 24 months
 - Construction timeline: 24 to 30 months

The PUD process outlined here assumes that existing services at Providence are allowed to close following regulatory approval.

STRATEGY FOR RETAIL INCLUSION

- Current RA-1 Zone does not allow retail.
- Medical office buildings are allowed to have retail as an ancillary use with no signage, canopies, or direct customer entry/exit from the sidewalk.
- Comp Plan includes text suggesting and encouraging mixed use and retail in certain conditions that apply here.
- Move forward with PUD with space that is designed to be flexible. Update the Comp Plan in 2026 to allow retail uses in time for the buildings to deliver.
